EASTERN TABLET — ALBANY, N. Y. 12204

1841: in the face of superior GB military force, Shanghai was hammered for 300,000 silver dollars (Yellow Creek: Davidson-Houston).

Treaty of Nanking, August 29, 1842 – tries to shape course of Sino-foreign relations for next 100 years and to establish the Settlement of Shanghai. – emphasis on Taiping not consonant.

The tribute system was replaced by the treaty system.

Treaty of Wanghsia, 1844 gave the U.S. substantially the advantages won by G.B.

Sept. 6, 1853: Tai'ping rebellion reaches Shanghai
- Defeat recapture of Shanghai (but not the Settlement) until Feb. 17, 1855 (but not generally anti-foreign here)
- Shanghai Settlement had become refuge for shelter and security for Chinese; number of Chinese in Settlement rose from 500 to 20,000.

July 11, 1854: Shanghai Municipal Council established for governing of Settlement.

T'ai P'ing threat revived in 1860.

1858: Treaty of Tientsin went further than Nanking Treaty.

1860: Allied assault on Peking itself & opening of diplomatic relations.

August 1860: T'ai P'ings headed for Shanghai: a half-million Chinese refugees in Settlement. — again in 1861, 1862

(Frederick Ward, American, and "The Ever Victorious Army")

(Succeeded by Charles "Chinese" Gordon, British)

By summer, 1864, Taiping's outdoor + scattered.

Taiping rebellion, 1851-1865, accounted for estimated 20-million lives — and changed character of Shanghai.

of have been placed in a very different position due to the absence of a very imp't.
member of our team —
Mr. Bernard Tannebaum.
I have been working very closely with Mr.
Tannebaum for several months. He has mentored me in every phase of the research, planning + preparation of the Shanghai project.
He is in under contract to allow Mr. T. to work on this project.

I believe Mr. T. serves as an important bridge between the Americans — that he can be of tremendous help in making the kinds of films the Americans can readily relate to, it can make China more meaningful to Americans.

I value Mr. T's advice — I consider it indispensable to the success of the project.

But not only are we seriously hampered by the absence of his advice — but at a very late date we are left short-handed. We do not have enough people for so long a period. (I was ~~under the impression that the Government would be a partner in China Film — as long as the regime is Communist as few people~~

I have been a student of your country for [redacted] years – all of my adult life. I come here w/ great respect for the [redacted] people, to do what I can to promote greater understanding & friendship between the peoples of China & America.

I hope by now you understand the sincerity of my interest and concern. I am serious and profound. I am here to work hard, to learn, and to achieve as broad and as real an understanding of China as I possibly can. — to make a serious, in-depth report to the American people that will go beyond the often superficial reports of the past. I cannot do this without your help and cooperation.

It is [redacted] for this purpose that it is necessary for Mr. Tannebaum to re-join the CBS news team in China.
